OUR TOWN

As these lines are written the cheers of Democrats are still ringing in our ears. As we have predicted and as we desire Governor Smith of New York will be the standard bearer for the Democratic party in the election of 1928. His name evoked the wildest demonstration ever accorded a candidate at Houston last night. The mention of Religious Liberty by Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, the permanent chairman, brought every state banner into parades except those of North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia and Virginia.

Claude Bowers of New York is credited with the greatest key note address in the history of the party and certainly one of the great utterances of the age. Smith will be nominated and the fanatics will bolt the ticket. We are going to keep them out of the party if they do. Time has come to enforce the integrity of the party pledge and let all who are convenient Democrats join the Republicans or get them a party of their own. A house divided against itself cannot stand and if the principles of Democracy as incorporated in the party of Jefferson are not enobling and enduring nothing in the history of human government has been discovered. So we are for party loyalty from the lowest to the highest office in the land. Voters who cannot support the nominees of the Houston convention should stay out of the primary electio in all other divisions of the party.

His Imperial Highness, Hiram Wesley Evans, Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan is in Houston to attend the National Democratic Convention. He is there to fight Smith and to direct, as he says, the policy of delegates on practically all of the Southern delegations at the convention.

Albert C. Ritchie the great governor of Maryland struck a note of challenge when he said the national election this fall will be a "contest between a human heart on one hand and a machine on the other. Al Smith is the human heart and Hoover is the machine." It is squarely up to the people. They will vote for an intelligent application of democratic government or they will vote for wooden horses and chain stores. Take your choice. As for us we choose Alfred E. Smith whose life and work has been that of the common people.

H. L. Mencken may not escape with his life. Between lynchings he said that Governor Moody ranks with a third class Y. M. C. A. secretary. Mencken is looking in on the Democratic convention at Houston. The editor of the American Mercury may not be pious but he is pungent.

The Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention is all wet. Tuesday the roof of the hall leaked and the place reserved for the Texas Delegation was flooded.

If the theology of Herbert Hoover's church as originally set forth in England in the mid seventeenth century is still intact he cannot take the oath of office as president of the United States. He will merely affirm it. This peculiar doctrine came from the early theology of the church which believed that a man could not take oath because Jesus taught against swearing. However in subsequent decades changes occured in the theology of the Quakers or Society of Friends as they were known in England, but so far as our information goes at this writing the original church has never receded from its interpretation of oath taking. On the contrary under the Declaration of Indulgence by James II resulting in the passing of the Toleration Act in 1689 they were permitted to affirm instead of swearing thus keeping intact their conception of the teachings of Jesus.

Originally known as the Society of Friends or Quakers, came into existence about the middle of the seventeenth century under the preaching of George Fox who was in some respects a liberal because in the pronouncements of his theology he taught that religion was a matter of individual conviction and experience and that the ordinances of the Lord's Supper and Baptism were non-essential. They had no rituals or creeds and there were no ordained ministers. Women as well as men could preach. They called themselves "Children of Light" later Friends and later still were known as Quakers. Missionary zeal later took Fox to other countries and American Quakerism was the result. William Penn became a member and his treaty with the Indians in Pennsylvaia is one of the results of his religious convictions proving that kindness rather than violence was more successful in dealing with

ST. MONICAS DEDICATED IN FORMAL CEREMONY

BISHOP BYRNE AND OTHER NOTABLES HERE FOR SERVICES WEDNESDAY

In the presence of hundreds of assembled members of the parish, visiting Catholics and friends, the church of St. Monica was solemnly dedicated Wednesday morning with services beginning at an early hour and ending shortly after noon.

Rev. Father Apel, pastor of the church was the central figure in a major part of the ceremonies, the pastor being especially honored for his achievement.

An inspirational address at eleven oc'lock by Right Rev. J. S. Murphy of Galveston was delivered in English. Rev. Murphy spoke with great feeling for the achievements of the local parish in erecting the modern new church. In the course of his address he took occasion to level criticism at modern trends in theology, a course which he says has led people away from the fundamentals of religion. Colleges and universities tolerating the teaching of atheism is leading the youth of the country away from the religion of Christ he said and urged the people to stand fast to the fundamentals. But for the great neuclus of faithful members the world would today be in danger of atheism and anarchy, he declared.

Bishop Byrne took part in the early ceremonies, one of which was dedication and consecration of the church carried out in processions around the temple and into the interior where ceremonies were completed. Other notables of the church spoke.

Dignitaries of the church in attendance were: Bishop C. E. Byrne of Galveston. Very Reverent J. B. Gleisner, Jos. Pelner of West; Christopher Preker of Tours; S. A. Zientek, Geo. and Joseph Berberick of Lott; J. O. Reilly of Temple; Jos. Vaylenta of Jarrell; B. Lee, Galveston; Right Reverent J. S. Murphy of Galveston; B. Bravia, Bryan; W. Domanski, Anderson; R. R. Shertz of Plante svil's. Rev. Kacer of Marek; Rev. Dillon, Houston; Rev. Moriarty of Burlington; Rev. E. A. Holub of La Grange.

Right Rev. O. Ruke was the only visitor from foreign soil and he resides in Canada.

High Mass following dedication of the church was sung by Father Apel, assisted by Right Rev. Christopher Preker and Right Rev. N. Domanski.

The bishop addressed the people in a fatherly manner giving great inspiration to the people.

After the Bishop's mass a class of about 62 children were confirmed.

The ceremonies dedicating the church were followed by a dinner served under the shade trees of the parish, prepared by the women of the parish.

Popular Comptroller Asks For Re-Election

S. H. TERRELL

The above is a splendid likeness of our genial young State Comptroller, S. H. Terrell, who has made an enviable record as a public official. He is at all times jovial and courteous and the spirit of genuine hospitality pervades the Comptroller's Department, which has greatly contributed to his statewide popularity. He is strictly a business man and has inaugurated many improvements in the methods of administering the duties of his office and he is always alert to the best interests of his State.

Comptroller Terrell has a multitude of duties to perform under our Constitution and statutes, among which are the passing upon and issuance of warrants covering the many thousands of accounts against the State, including the salaries, per diem and expense accounts of all its officers and employes; the enforcement of the provisions of the Dean Liquor Law imposed upon him relating to the issuance of liquor permits; the collection of gross receipts and occupation taxes, amounting to everal millions of dollars annually; the collection of Inheritance Taxes; the settlement of the State's accounts with every County Tax Collector; the approval of the Tax Rolls of each County Tax Assessor; the registration of bond issues, aggregating more than $72,000,000.00 for the past year, being a splendid index to the prosperity of our people; the issuance of redemption receipts for the payment of delinquent taxes; the payment of Confederate Pension warrants to more than 13,000 pensioners quarterly, and many other miscellaneous duties. In addition, he is a member of the State Tax Board; State Board of Education, and other important agencies of the State. His department is one of the largest of the State Government, occupying one-fourth of the entire first floor of the Capitol building.

Mr. Terrell recently announced that he is a candidate to succeed himself in the July primaries and his friends say that the splendid manner in which he has conducted his office and the prompt and efficient service he has rendered the people entitle him to an easy victory.

In the printing of the cast of characters last week the name of Albert Richter was omitted from the list. This was an error. His name should have appeared under the character of Johnnie, Jr.

C. M. BEARD OF MILANO FOR THE LEGISLATURE

ENTERS RACE FOR COMMON SCHOOLS OF STATE HE DECLARES IN STATEMENT

C. M. Beard of Milano, former member of the legislature is a candidate for election to that office subject to the Democratic primary election on July 28. In his statement to the people he declares his mission is to improve the condition of the public schools.

Mr. Beard is a well known Democrat, having made many campaigns in this county in days gone by, and he will make an active canvas of the county for this office.

The following statement is issued by Mr. Beard:

To the voters of Milam County:

"I have been petitioned by the County Board of Education of Milam County to make the race for the State Legislature in behalf of the Common Schools of our county, and the furtherance of the cause of rural education in this state. The County Board of Education being a non-political body, it could certainly have no purpose in petitioning me to run for this office except to promote the cause of education in this county and state. I have therefore given it my earnest consideration and have decided to do so. In presenting my candidacy to the people of Milam County for this important office at this time, I am not ummindful of the honors heretofore confered upon me by electing me to this position in the past, for which I am profoundly grateful and wish to assure them that I am not seeking the office at this time for either its honors or emoluments, but that I, in a measure, may repay them for the honors heretofore conferred, by giving the best efforts of my life towards establishing a better rural school system for the children of my county and state. While the children of our cities and larger towns are fairly will provided with opportunities of acquiring a high school education, the children of the rural districts are not.

"Dr. Hughes, president of the State Teachers' Association of Texas, in a recent address states there are 500,000 rural students in Texas without proper education opportuinties. This is a terrible indictment against our rural school system, and in my judgment the hour has struck for the people of this state to demand a more adequate and efficient system. Believing that the boys and girls on the farms of this state should have an equal opportunity with the boys and girls in more favored localities of acquiring at least a high school education, I shall put forth the supreme effort of my life to bring about these conditions if elected.

"Our neighbor state, Arkansas, has shown us how to build good roads and maintain them by utilizing a gasoline tax for that purpose. I therefore favor a reasonable gasoline tax as a basis for the issuing of bonds, the proceeds to be used in part to redeem the county and district bonds heretofore issued for building state highways, thus relieving the farm lands and other property from the exorbitant road tax many of us are now paying.

"If elected my motto shall be "Economy in public expenditures of the people's money.' And I hereby pledge myself to that principle.

"Again thanking the people of my county for the honors heretofore confered upon me and the confidence reposed in me, and soliciting your support at the coming primaries, I am,

Most truly yours,

C. M. Beard."

Seeing The Convention

A novel feature of the Democratic convention building at Houston is the walkway through the back of the hall elevated so that it affords a view of the hall and through which those without convention seats are allowed to parade leisurely to obtain a view of a great convention in action.

This considerate arrangement is much appreciated by thousands of Texans who went to the convention as visitors, but in the hope of being privileged to look in on the delegates while at their work.

"Looking for Losses"

The State Highway Department has called in the help of the Attorney General's Department, it is said in an effort to catch minor employees suspected of having cheated the State in the laying of road topping. The State pays contractors so much a square yard for laying topping a given thickness, and an inquiry is being conducted around the possibility that less than the agreed amount of composition has been laid.

Wherever there is large expenditure of public funds, constant vigilance is necessary to secure a fair compliance with contracts. Many people seem to think there is little wrong in defrauding the Government if it can be done without too much danger of being caught.

Fighting Orient Sale

This is a selfish old world—a greedy old world. Officials of the paper railroad from San Antonio to San Angelo are planning to oppose the purchase of the Orient by the Santa Fe on the ground that such purchase would decrease the revenue of the proposed road should it be built.

The claim is that the Orient, as an independent road, would be a feeder of the proposed new line, but that if acquired by the Santa Fe the business would go to that road.

Citrus Industry Grows

That the citrus industry in the lower Rio Grande Valley is growing rapidly is srown in the estimates made by Federal officials that 2500 cars will be required to handle next year's crops.

Statistics gathered show that the Southern Pacific and Missouri Pacific roads moved 1154 cars by freight in the last season and that 190 cars were shipped by express. In addition to this, the equivalent of 200 carloads, it is estimated, moved out of the Valley in trucks, mostly to points in Texas.

The expected increase for next season will come mostly from new orchards coming into bearing and from the complete recovery of the old trees from the damaging freeze of two years ago.

Volunteer Cotton

The first bale of cotton for the year in Texas was from San Juan, but was said to be "volunteer cotton" grown from the stubble of old cotton left in the fields from the previous year. Even so it was only a day ahead of that which was produced from this year's planting in the Brownsville section.

However produced, first bales are merely announcements to the world that the Texas cotton crop for the year is on the way to market, and that as a consequence an era of business activity and prosperity may be expected.

Profitable Touring

Farmers of the Winter Garden District, finding a little leisure time, propose a huge caravan to visit the irrigated sections of West Texas, Arizona New Mexic oand California, to study irrigation and diversified farming as practiced in the localities to be visited.

In Calfornia they will make a special study of the citrus industry and grape culture, and dairying and poultry raising as well.

In this, there is a suggestion to farmers in other parts of the state. Instead of spending vacation period, following the laying by of crops, in doing nothing or in purposeless tours why not organize parties having similar interests and make a study of those interests as handled in other sections of this and other States?

That "Etex" Label

East Texas makers and growers of worthwhile products are beginning to see the value of the "Etex" label that is used to indicate that the products are up to the high standard required by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce on products put out by those licensed to use the label. Numerous letters of inquiry are being received from all over the country in regard to the label, and there is an increased demand for goods bearing it.

Chain Stores Increase

Chain stores are increasing in numbers and in the amount of business done. They are spreading from the cities and towns to the smallest villages and are handling almost all kinds of merchandise. It is a trend in modern business that must be met by merchants everywhere. A new chain of grocery and meat stores to operate in the Southwest and to be known as the Southwest Stores has been announced. Its plans are to do a $6,000,000 business the first year.

American Legion Fund

San Antonio is raising a $100,000 fund with which to entertain the American Legion meeting in September. Nearly 135,000 letters have been sent out to all parts of the United States and foreign countries setting forth the attractions of San Antonio as a convention city. Thousands of posters and folders advertising the convention have been mailed. Fully 50,000 Legionnaires are expected to attend the convention, thousands of whom will come to Texas by automobiles, many of them to look for new homes in the State that offers so many opportunities for the home-seeker.

Every Texas community should cooperate with San Antonio in making this convention a real Texas event.

Pecan Crop Good

Although the pecan crop will again be short in some parts of Texas, taking the state as a whole, it will be above the average unless the pecan borer or other pests do unexpected damage.

The pecan crop brings a large revenue to the State, which would be much larger if only the growers had an efficient organization for handling it.

Truck Growers Co-operate

Starting with a small local organization formed by a local teacher of vocational agriculture last year, Denison truck growers have found organized marketing has grown to over 100 and these have co-operated in planting large acreage in melons, tomatoes, potatoes, cucumbers and other crops to their mutual advantage in both buying and selling.

Rally Day

Club Rally Day held at the City Park June 16 was well attended. The day began with registration at 9:30 o'clock. The program was opened by Mr. Banzhaf, County Farm Agent, acting as toastmaster, when he introduced H. P. Black who led the crowd in the singing of a number of familiar club songs.

Judge W. G. Gillis delivered the address of welcome which was followed by a talk by District Agent George Johnson of A. & M. College. From 11:00 to 12:00 Miss Sprott, District Home Demonstration Agent, gave a lecture demonstration on household linens to the women and girls, while the men and boys had a lesson in terracing.

From 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock a huge picnic lunch was served. Complimentary accessories of the picnic lunch were drinks from the local Coco Cola Bottling Works and cream from the Palace of Sweets and Cameron State Bank. Ted Epperson of the Electric Shop furnished radio for music.

After the lunch hour games and contests were directed by Scout Master Joe Matula until 2:30 at which time Mrs. Sam Hefley gave a free picture show.

Wires are the Nerves of Industry

HAVE you ever seen a progressive city without wires, hidden or exposed—the copper wires, the metal nerves of industry?

Every surgeon knows that to cut a tendon, sever a sinew, part a nerve, is to restrict the functioning of the human body.

Every engineer likewise knows that to separate a community from its source of light and power, is to set that community back a long span of years. Were this separation to be prolonged suspended animation would take effect and city progress would be done a death blow.

We are accustomed to the free use o hands and legs, and we are also accustomed to the daily advantages of reliable and ample electric light and power It is only as we picture what deprivation would mean, that we can fully appreciate the blessings of this modern age of health and light and power and the other conveniences that are ours.

Electric Washer Is Greatest Utility of Modern Home Today

Several generations ago washday meant hours of back-breaking. labor with the hands in hot, skin-destroying suds; lifting of tubs; tiresome hand wringing; and wading around most of the day in a muddy yard.

This condition was somewhat improved by the introduction of hand operated washing machines. These machines, however, still required a great deal of work for operation. Though not as burdensome as the old time method of scrubbing, operation of the machine by hand would grow tiresome in itself and never performed a job as well as the modern electrically operated machine. Yet this hand machine was a great step forward in saving labor and time for the housewife. But this method seems crude and old-fashioned when compared to the electric washer used in the modern home.

Today the electric washing machine has taken all the drudgery out of washing. The once dreaded rubbing and lifting of tubs hold no more terrors for the housewife because washing, rinsing and wringing are automatic processes now, accomplished by the touch of a button. The electric washing machine launders the household linen snow-white and wrings it while the housewife looks on, or attends to her other duties.

With the advent of the electric washer, the uncertainty of human help is no longer a worry and washing expense has been reduced to minimum.

Honors For Hefley At West Point In Graduation There

Cadet William T. Hefley, Jr., the son of Mrs. W. T. Hefley of Cameron, has been designated a "distinguished cadet" by the Academic Board of the United States Military Academy in recognition of his having attained 92 per cent or more on the merit roll of his class. Accordingly he has been awarded "stars" which he will wear on his collar for the next year. Being designated a "distinguished cadet" is the highest scholastic honor possible to a cadet.

Wayside Dances

Wayside plans for the immediate future call for a number of good dances with high class orchestras. On Saturday June 30th, Dee Johnson of Houston will furnish the music. This is one of the best ten piece negro orchestras in the south.

Charlie Gamble and his Chicago Night Hawks play for the morning German, July 4th. This is a big time band and a special feature.

Dee Johnson plays again on the night of July 4th for the regular July dance. The management of this popular resort is giving a free barbecue on the evening of the 4th.

Picnic at Wayside

The Senior B. Y. P. U. entertained its members with a hobo party picnic at Wayside Monday night. Some twenty couples met at the First Baptist Annex at 7:30 o'clock and motored to the river. Miss Bethel Middleton, chairman of the entertainment committee, directed games throughout the evening. Lunch was spread on a long table, where it was served cafeteria style.

After supper hobo jokes were told by the members of the picnic as they sat in scattered groups on the lawn. At ten o'clock they disbanded to go to their respective homes.

National Title Week Is Brought Home To Our Community

Title insurance as a form of protection to the ownership of real estate, as simple and as necessary as automobile, accident and life insurance, and much less expensive than either is the theme of "National Title Week" activities undertaken by The Milam County Abstract Company, in Milam County during the week of June 25th to 30th.

"The rise in value of real estate," said Mr. John B. Henderson, of the Milam County Abstract Company, "emphasises the need of title insurance. Hitherto, it has not been easy to secure the proper financial background for this type of insurance. Through our connection with the New York Title and Mortgage Company, we are able to procure policies from them, backed by their capital funds of over $44,000,000, the largest guaranty fund of its kind in America.

"Title insurance has long passed the experimental stage. The application of the principle of title insurance nationally dates back for more than a decade. Large lending institutions, such as the life insurance companies, banks and others, have long used it. It is now available for every individual transaction, and the rates are so low that they make no appreciable addition to the cost of real estate, while at the same time, there is added the absolute certainty of ownership."

Asbestos FOR re-roofing

For centuries asbestos was a curiosity. The ancients held awe because of the weird superstitions about its origin and powers.

Only in recent years has asbestos rock been used widely on a commercial scale.

Its use has grown by leaps and bounds. In a few years it has become a commercial, industrial and domestic necessity. One of the most important uses of asbestos rock is in the manufacture of asbestos shingles. It is combined with Portland cement, another indestructible material.

Eternits are immune to fire and atmospheric conditions. They are everlasting. They cannot rot or decay.

Asbestos shingles are particularly adaptable to re-roofing. Strong and tough, they can be nailed right over your old shingles. You get a better roof, because the old roof gives an extra thickness of insulation. Your rooms are cooler in summer and warmer in winter.

This method of re-roofing avoids all the dirt and litter of the old system of tearing off the old shingles. It's cheaper, too, because time is saved. The completed job adds to the value of your property and greatly improves the appearance of your home.

Eternit ASBESTOS SHINGLES

cost less if you figure "cost per year." The first cost is only slightly more than you would have to pay for short-life roofings. But if you figure length of service, there is no comparison.

Phone 27. We'll gladly inspect your roof and make recommendations.

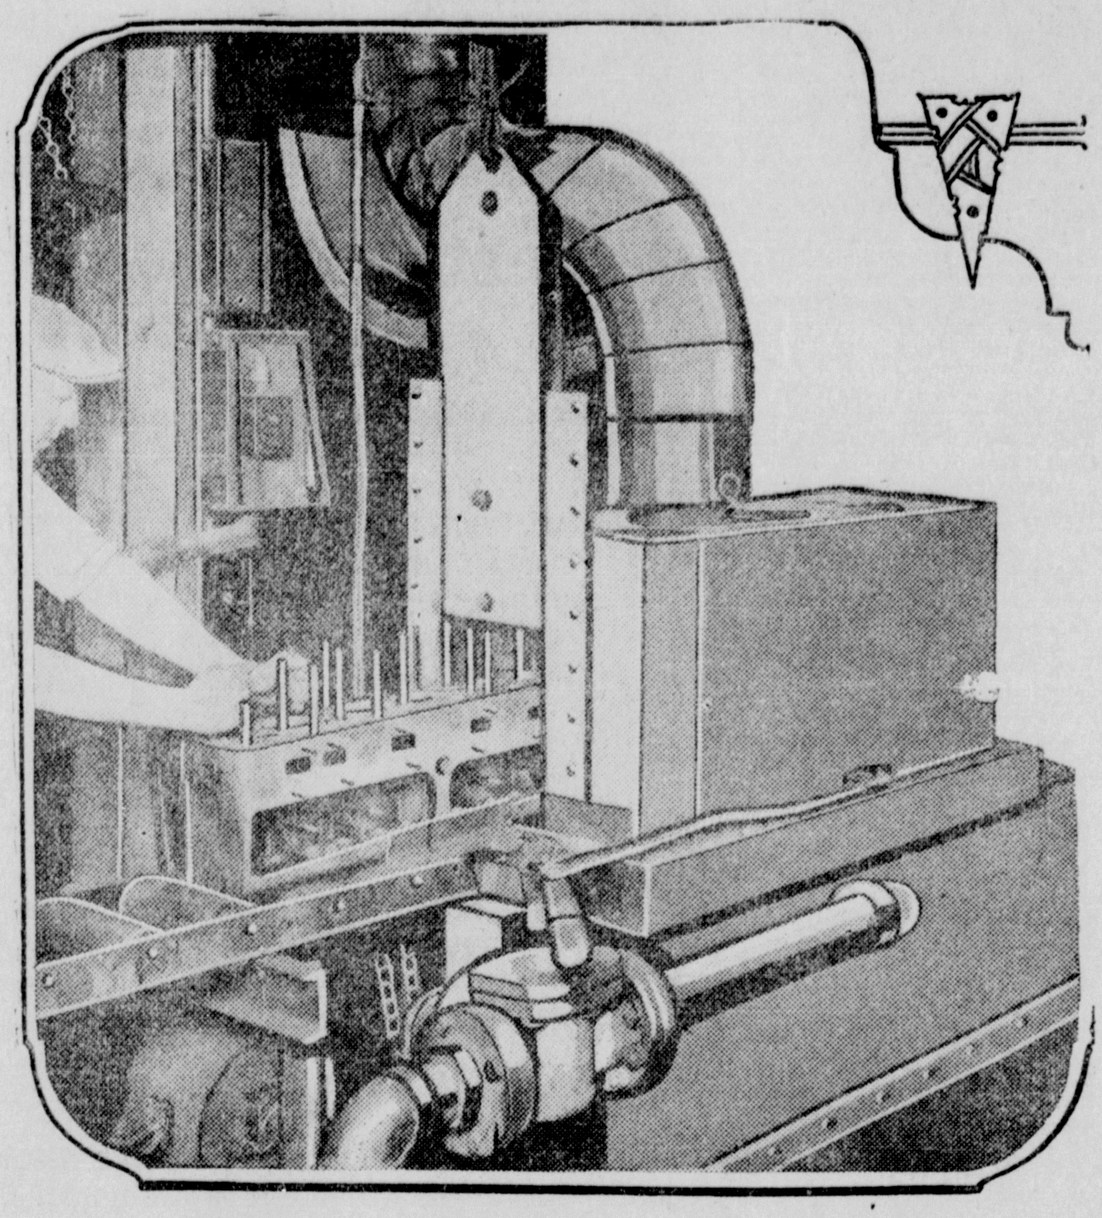
DIPPED — DOUSED — SPRAYED — IMMERSED

THERE IS NOTHING MORE LAUNDERED THAN A HUDSON MOTOR



Probably one of the cleanest and most laundered articles in the world is a high grade automobile engine. It is washed with live steam, with boiling soda solutions and with kerosene and oil—not once, but repeatedly. It is scoured, sprayed, immersed and doused. Cascades of swirling hot water under pressure are poured over it.

Each sort of dirt, grit or grease is attacked with a different method. Finally, it is given an internal bath with oil under pressure. An example of how these operations are carried on under conditions of high production is afforded in the Hudson Super-Six. Following is a Hudson description of what is done to a cylinder block.

The block is cleaned by sand blast, then sprayed with paint to close pores in the metal. Next the interior of the cooling system is pressure tested with water for leaks, following which a hot soda solution under pressure washes this whole sytem for and, rut and other dirt.

After the valves are ground this part of the motor is sprayed with kerosene which loosens up any surface dirt.

Live Steam Bath

Next the whole block is subjected to a bath of live steam under pressure. Still this is not enough, so the whole block is placed in a rotary washer—an enclosed compartment within which the block is rotated while gallons of very hot metal cleaning solution are cascaded onto it and through every part of it. Now it is partly immersed in cold water—as much for cooling as for additional cleansing. It is dried with compressed air which blows away dirt.

Hot Oil Internal Bath

Finally and probably most significant of all, the whole interior of the motor is given a hot oil bath during the block test. As the motor runs during this test a constant fresh supply of filtered oil is fed the motor from special tanks. The motor warms itself naturally during the test, so that particles of grit, machine chips or other dirt are loosened and washed out of the motor by the supply of oil.

The oil itself is not carried to the sump for re-circulation but is led away from the motor, taking with it the various particles as sediment. This several hours of an internal hot oil bath so cleanses the inside of the motor that the closest inspection is said to discover no foreign substance. This system is employed by some of the finest European cars.

Thoroughly Cleaned

Meantime, the aluminum crankcase the cylinder heads and various miscellaneous parts have been subjected to similar washing systems, so that the whole Hudson motor inside and out is said to be spotlessly clean.

This cleanliness at the very start of a motor's operation is declared highly important to its long life, and Hudson's recent developments have been along the line of increasing the efficiency of each washing operation as well as adding new methods and new facilities.

A careful motorist will hardly start on a tour without first making sure that his car is in sound condition to carry him safely through to the "journey's end."

CRACKLINGS

Did you ever notice how some people have such an irritating way of paying their past due bills with a patronizing gesture.

Of one thing I am firmly convinced, at a show, concert, lecture or church, if your seat seems uncomfortable or hard, it's a sure sign that the entertainment is below your standard.

No matter how you look at it, people are interested in the troubles of successful people. Let some big fellow get into grief and it's first page news, eagerly devoured. The troubles of failures depress all.

The world is advancing. Look at business conditions—successful business men, I refer to. Business men are coming to size each other up fairly; performance, results count. You don't find them weeping and wailing on each others shoulders. They take their losses, disappointment and heartaches like men—philosophically. After all, there are but two real fundamental laws everyone must face: 1. The law of preservation. 2. The law of the survival of the fittest.

I can not understand people who constantly want to change their job or their environment just to have it easier. I think of no condition so torturing as "What shall I do today?" Leisure for idleness, can there be peace of mind, contentment, progress, in such desires?

Love is that indefinable something that makes a man turn on the hot water when he meant to light the gas, hunt for a collar button when it was sox he wanted, shave every day, cultivate an earnest desire to have his clothes cleaned and pressed often, use twenty minutes to get six unruly hairs in place and forget whether or not he had had any lunch. Yet it rules the world.

Many a man who promises before marriage to lift every care off a girls shoulders won't even let her see the first page of the evening paper first.

A tip to local merchants: A certain man is quietly but thoroughly checking up to see how many of you and your wives are trading out of town.

I saw a display of soap chips and corn flakes together in a store window the other day, and, you know, for the life of me I couldn't get over thinking how utterly ruined the day would be if the cook should get the wrong box.

If Lewis Caroll had written within the pages of Alice in Wonderland a prediction that his manuscript would some day sell for $70,000 the publishers might have dashed his work in the hungry waste basket as absurdly fantastic. Also I'm wondering what effect it would have had on the sale of Sinclair Lewis' "Elmer Gantry" had he told in the book he would soon wed a Methodist minister's daughter.

Thanks to Teachers

The 1928 term of our Community Vacation Bible School showed the real interest of our people in week-day religious education. The fact that 180 children from our several churches, 40 per cent more than last year, were enrolled for that happy, helpful two week's course in Christinity, is evidence of the interest of the parents of those children. But the greater evidence of interest was the service rendered by the untiring members of the faculty. To them is due the appreciation of us all.

No one could question the devotion of our young people to spiritual things, after noting the active service in which they were engaged, in the several departments of the Community Vacation Bible School.

As the sponsoring organization for this school, The Cameron Federation of Missionary Societies wishes to express a very deep gratitude to those who have helped so efficiently. There was Edward Manning's splendid lettering on the posters, James Markham's and Mr. George Childress' strenous job in supervising the wood work, besides the class room and playground teaching so gladly given by Mrs. W. A. Bonds, Mrs. T. A. Fisher, Misses Clyde Baskin, Dora Emily Moore, Florence Atkinson, Gladys Davis, Dinks Baskin, Mrs. B. T. People Now Read to Save as Well as for News---

People no longer believe as they once did that advertising makes goods higher. They know it pays them.

People no longer need to go to the big cities to know what's what in fashion.

People know now that the small town merchant can buy the same brand at the same prices the big town merchant can, and—

People know now there is an advantage in buying from home merchants.

People have found that postage, gas, tires and car costs, all must be added to the now and then leader prices often used by the city stores and mail order houses.

People also know rents are higher, expenses more in the city stores and that expenses are added before profit can be made.

Look over what your merchant's message is in The Cameron Herald. See what they have to offer.

You will find that a few cents that often look like a saving from distant merchants, in reality is an expense.

Watch the ads, read the ads. Save by buying at home.

THEY DARED AND WE OUGHT TO

July 4, 1776, will always remain one of the eloquent dates in American history. Something happened then that was heard the world around, the echoes of which have kept on resounding. Our forebears who participated in the momentous event were very human, possessing foibles, eccentricities. To use a Scriptural phrase, "they were men of like passions" with us. The inspiring thing is they nobly dared.

To be sure, there was nothing like unanimity among the leaders of that generation which announced the Declaration of Independence, fought the Revolutionary war and framed the Constitution. The controversial spirit was rife; the debates were often acrimonious; vital and far reaching issues were decided by narrow margins. There was a good deal of wrangling, and confusion, but happily no chaos. The main point is they nobly dared.

Amidst the many tokens which serve to remind us what happened 152 years ago in Philadelphia, we do well remember the adventuresomeness of it. Without the daring spirit, the audacious mind, the willingness to take a sublime risk, there would have been no Declaration, no Constitution, no newly born nation, with lusty voice and growing limb. They nobly dared and lo—this America.

It was Wendell Phillips who said that to be as good as our fathers we have to be better; to do as much as they did we have to do more; to go as far as they went we have to go further. Well, said, and in this year of our independence, one hundred and fifty-second, it becomes us nobly to dare.

SUNSHINE

The Boy Scouts, Camp Fire girls and other exponents of the out-of-doors are enjoying benefits of life in the open. They see the things of the world in a new light and understand nature better. They meet friends in the same cause, swap stories and form congenial companionships. Every student of the big outdoors gets new object lessons, makes new resolves and forms new links of character with the day of sunshine.

Sunshine is the test of summer time. It ripens the grain and fruit and gives strength to the camper. All nature has a smiling face when the sun causes the plants to grow, the flowers to open and the fruits to mature. Sunshine induces youth to get out, amid the fields and forests, drink in the pure air and enjoy the healthfulness of exercise in the open.

There are profits in sunshine that one does not always reckon on when planning an outing in the open. It creates beauty and attractiveness and thereby aids to efficiency and usefulness. It helps in fitting one for future work and inculcates a desire for keeping young in order to continue enjoying the playfields of youth. Yes, there are countless benefits to be derived from mingling with the all-outdoors. The sun paints smiles on the cheeks of humanity in unerasable lines.

ECONOMICAL ADVERTISING

Competition for business is keen and likely to remain so. This year and the years following are a time to buy advertising economically, to match in advertising the increased efficiencies of production.

Newspaper advertising is low-cost, productive, localized advertising. It is the logical aid of business at a time when volume is large, when hand-to-mouth buying puts a premium upon flexibility and control. Newspaper advertising permits more speed because it has four-wheel brakes.

Newspaper advertising can be focused without waste upon the markets of the greatest buying nation on earth. It reaches the greatest number of people and its seed is sowed in fertile soil. That is, the merchant buying newspaper advertising space knows it is covering his trade area and reaching the maximum number of old and prospective customers in that territory.

The Herald is leader in this rich market for advertised goods and its readers look to it for shopping information and news of the commercial world, and its advertisers look to it to appraise the public of shopping advantages and opportunities they offer.

Newspaper advertising, and newspaper advertising alone, can sell everything from patent medicine to automobiles. It has done it, is doing it and will continue to do it.

In this age, a wise chicken doesn't cross the road.

A grade crossing just will not stand for being double crossed.

The nice thing about not getting what you want is you still think you want it.

The more you live as if you were the only person in the world the more you are out of it.

American currency is in demand in continental Europe. In that respect Europe is quite American.

OUR TOWN

aboriginals along the rocks of Plymouth.

The Quakers throughout all history of their faith seem to have been peaceful even repudiating their countries in war and refusing to engage in war because contrary to Christian teachings. In England they were persecuted and were imprisoned for going to worship on Sunday under the rigid orthoxody of the Puritans and Episcopalians. They were cast into prison for preaching on the streets and in the markets, for not paying Tithes and for testifying against 'Hat Worship' and for refusing to take oaths. Their continued refusal to take oath subjected them to increased persecutions, so violent that by 1697 it is estimated that some 16,000 had been imprisoned and 152 transported and that 370 had died in confinement or in consequence of their sufferings. The religious fanatics of the age soon lessened their persecution for minor offenses such as oath taking but they continued to imprison them for nonpayment of Tithes.

The Quakers have many notable endeavors to their credit such as philantropic works. They joined with John Woolman the noted American for the abolition of slavery, sending up the first petition to the House of Commons. The first half of the 19th century witnessed more modern tendencies and missionary zeal brought them increased numbers. They began to take more interest in public affairs and many of peculiarities of their religion disappeared. The Quakers have no creed but the theological views expressed in its official documents do not differ materially from the Apostles' Creed. Devotional silence marks the worship.

Persecution for not taking of oaths, hat worship and the Tithe led Quakers to settle in Boston in 1655 and here they encountered persecutions and were scattered. Others settled in Pennslyvania and New Jersey prior to 1674 and organization was effected. They are today known in four branches as follows: The Orthodox with 96,000 members and the Hicksites with 19,545 members and the Wilburites with 4,468 members. The Primitive Friends are a secession from the Wilburites but have only 232 members. The Quakers have been peaceful and energetic throughout their history although their strange doctrines and their queerness remains with them although brushed aside to some extent in the march of modern times. To which of these branches Hoover belongs this column cannot answer. Maybe some of the readers can tell us if Hoover is against taking oaths and if he pays a Tithe. Happily the constitution makes no discrimination in matters of religion in determining qualifications for office, but Mr. Hoover will have to take oath if he is elected.

Does Weakness Detract from Your Good Looks?

Paris, Texas.—"I was suffering with woman's trouble and after trying several different remedies without receiving any benefit to speak of, I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was told that it was the best, and so it proved to be. I had taken only a few bottles of it before I was perfectly well."

"I also took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery after an attack of the 'flu' and it built me up in health and strength wonderfully."—Mrs. Gertie Nation, 131 Graham St. All dealers.

In Memoriam

J. D. Nesbitt who has been a reader of the Cameron Herald for nearly a half century has sent to us a clipping from the files of The Herald when edited by McAnally. This clipping is a memorium to the Populist party and will be read with much interest by the readers of this paper.

Died—On Tuesday, November 3, 1896 at 6 o'clock p. m., little Per Capita, infant son of P. O. P.Party, aged 6 years and a few months.

Thus has another flower passed away to the dark, subsequently cut off in the spring-time of life, ere its swadling clothes had been laid aside for the habiliments of riper years.

Born of diseased parents, the child was a weakling from the day of its birth and during its short and unfortunate life its sufferings were intense and the agonizing wails of the poor little sufferer would melt the stoutest heart.

The family physicians, Drs. Cuney, Grant and Green, were in constant attendance at the bedside of the little sufferer, and exhausted every remedy within their knowledge to fan the flickering spark back into the flame of life, but with all the tender nursing and most devoted care, the loved ones about its couch saw their darling sinking down into its last eternal sleep.

Additional medical counsel was called in by the family physicians and a consultation held. As a last resort, a prescription was finally agreed upon by the doctors and they then explained to the anxious family that this remedy was a dangerous one, but the case was a desperate one, and the dose prescribed would either cure the case at once or end its sufferings in a speedy death. A portion of the family protested against such heroic methods but the dissenters were outnumbered and overruled and the dose was given.

For a short time the child revived and the doctors began to hope again, but this last gleam of light and hope was soon to fade away into utter darkness and despair. The deadly drug began its work at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 3rd and at the closing of the day, just when the last ray of sunlight had kissed the forest trees goodnight, the little sufferer sank into that dreamless sleep which knows no waking. The fatal dose is not a new one, but was never used before in Texas. We have th eprescription, and herewith present the formula as a future warning to political doctors:

For Infant of P. O. P. Party
Fluid Ext. Africanus ..... 3 parts
Tinct. Demo-Goldbugabus ..... 1 part
Com. Chloride Populitacussabus 1 part

Mix well, then stir in sixteen drinks of blind tiger whiskey to one nigger; add one ounce of cologne to kill the smell; take one dose, and death will result in a few hours.

'Twas thus the little one passed away and turned up its little pink toes to the daisies. The cold north wind will sing a sad requiem oe'r the grave where he sleeps and springtime will come with its soft zephyrs and blooming flowers; the little birds will twitter sweet melodies on the swaying branches of the budding trees, but little Per Capita will sleep on forever.

The child was buried deep, oh, so very deep and at the head of his grave there stands a pine headboard made from the free silver plank in the populist platform, on which appears the following appropriate inscription:

Sacred to the Memory of
LITTLE PER CAPITA
Infant Son of
P. O. P. PARTY
Died November 3, A. D., 1896
6 o'clock P. M.

"Here rests his head upon the lap of earth"
A youth to office and truth unknown;
A political orphan from his birth,
The people killed him before he was grown.
His soul was little, his heart insincere,
His friends were few and hard to find;
He gave the negro all he had, a beer,
But for all that came out behind.

The funeral services were very impressive and it is stated on good authority that Drs. Cuney, Grant and Green wept.—Ex.

Telephones Increase 1000 Per Cent In 20 Years.

In the last twenty years the population of the United States has increased forty-five per cent, while the number of telephones in use has increased one thousand per cent. The telephone has become almost indispensable to both the business and the social world. In fact, the telephone has become so much a part of everyone's life and is in such constant use, it is taken for granted and is not appreciated to the extent it should be. It has become so easy to take down the receiver and talk to any place or person desired that the public is beginning to overlook the value of telephone service.

Telephone development has been so rapid that telephone patrons know very little of the achievements in improving and extending service except that from year to year it has become increasingly easier to talk and that additional uses of the telephone, saving both time and effort, are arising daily.

Every year the people of the United States talk more over the telephone than they did the year before. Statistics show that we talk more over the telephone than any other country in the world, and that our country has more telephones than all the rest of the world combined. For every hundred persons in the United States there are fifteen telephones. Every minute day and night 50,000 telephone bells are ringing somewhere in our country.

The Telephone Company is continually to make it still more easy to talk by improvements in all branches of the industry. The companies that comprise the Bell System are this year spending $1,000,000 a day for improvements and additions to their facilities.

Many new conveniences in telephone service are becoming available to the public. Most of the crack express trains in this country are now connected with a complete telephone system up to the last minute before their departure. A telephone in every stateroom has become standard equipment on modern ocean liners.

Improvements in long distance service have made possible its use with greater speed and with less effort each year. These improvements, and the increasing use of two-number or station-to-station service, have brought down the average time necessary to complete a long distance call from five minutes in 1926 to three minutes at the close of 1927.

Most persons are all familiar with the Trans-Atlantic Radio Telephone Service and what it has meant to the world by making possible telephone communication between the principal nations of two continents. Nearly 3,000,000 over-sea telephones have been brought within reach of 18,000,000 American telephones.

All of these improvements have been made possible through the tireless efforts of thousands of employees. The public seldom thinks of the vast army of workers that are required in furnishing them service ready for instant use day or night. Over 250,000 men and women in the Bell System are devoting their entire energies in providing the American people with the best possible telephone service at the least possible cost.

Buick Sets New Sales Record

Flint, Mich., June 30.—Buick sales for May exceeded those for April by almost 5,000 cars, C. W. Churchill, general sales manager of the Buick Motor Company, announced this week. The figure is taken from retail delivery reports, which reflect considerable improvement in business conditions practically everywhere in the country.

Mr. Churchill also made public a set of tables showing the dollar value of various makes of automobiles sold in the 12 months ending March 31, 1928. These tables indicate that the public paid $365,000,000 for Buick cars during that period, as compared with $250,000,000 for the cars of the second highest producer in the fine car field, and $221,000,000 for those of the third.

WHAT WE THINK

By FRANK DIXON

The farm bill was vetoed which was a mighty good thing for the farmers and everybody. When the powers that be come to their senses they will operate on the tariff to help the farmer. He has been relieved of too much now.

All of which complicates the political situation—so they say.

The Democrats have no one to nominate worth while, but Smith. The Republicans have to nominate Hoover. No other Republican candidate can get anywhere in the East. That's the dope and you had just as well take your medicine.

It must be great fun being governor or president. You can get your picture taken with a group of good looking young girls any day, who have won in some contest or other. It is a great life.

Fewer banks and better bankers says Bank Commissioner Bone. We say fewer farms and better farmers and so on all along the line. Bone has nothing on us.

A Nebraska man is trying to recruit an army of 100,000 farmers to march to the Kansas City Convention to protest the veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. It can't be done now. The farmers are marching up and down corn rows and all over hayfields whetting up the machinery, ready for the wheat harvest. Yes, the farmer is too busy to march anywhere just now.

Musolini now says he is planning a Democratic like we have in America. He ought to know that the land in Italy is too poor to support a Democracy like we have in America. Also they do not have other natural resources. A Democracy is a very costly government; too much Democracy and not enough efficiency.

It is ruled that Kansas City policemen must relieve themselves of all hirsute adornments. Even policemen have troubles.

If the police force in Holton should lose their whiskers no one woud be scared of them at all.

Officers shot and wounded two men suspected of being bank robbers. One was a farmer, the other a restaurant man. Almost any one ought to distinguish a farmer from a bandit, but it would be different with a restaurant man.

All sorts of people make up the universe. Some go so far as to say if the Creator had wanted man to fly he would have made him with wings. Well he made a man with a head but only a few do the thinking.

Life consists of two things—one hoping it will rain and the other wishing it would quit.

Another day or two of rain and it will prove what is the matter with graveled roads. Travelers tell us they are impassable in places.

All the politicians are doing their best to get their ears down to the grass roots right now. The trouble is, they will not listen to the right sounds or the sounds they should listen to.

Borah raised only $6000 to return to Sinclair as a conscience fund. He should have known better. Peoples' consciences do not stretch like that.

Harry will contribute to both parties as usual this year, but it will be a little more on the quiet.

We are not stuck on the soprano screaming over the radio. The ordinary good singer pleases us more. When a real artist sings we appreciate it, but would be screaming screamadonnas do not suit us. I would rather hear a lecture on wild cats.

We are in favor of a flood control bill to control the distribution of said oratory at government expense. But nothing will be done—that is one of your Republican institutions.

Some people complained of the wind last week. That was only a gentle zephyr. When a small boy we lived in southern Kansas and I have seen it blow so hard it would hold a board against a side of a house for hours at a stretch and the board was placed horizontally at that. I have seen large drifts of sand through the key hole. One year drifting sand covered the Osage hedge around the house and the hedge was four feet high. A man chewed sand all the time. We boys used our hats at school for race horses. A twelve foot bridge 80 rods away stopped the hats. If one went over, goodbye hat. It was never seen again.

Most of the problems that fret us are settled after all by the stern law of necessity.

Bridge Party

Misses Grace Eplin and Ruby Lingert were joint hostesses at a Bridge Party Monday night on the lawn of the Eplin home on East Thirteenth Street. The party carried out the flag theme.

The lawn was a place of beauty with its growing flowers and was enhanced by cut flowers in tall wicker baskets, an embankment of ferns and strung multicolored lights. Five tables were placed in this lovely setting. Music was furnished by a portable victrola.

Game tables were laid with red, white and blue covers and the hostesses served their guests to brick ice cream and angel food squares, iced in the red, white and blue. Plate favors were. small United States flags.

Miss Alice Waldrop of Rockdale won high and Mrs. W. D. Bigbee won low . They recived novelty gifts. Mrs. Henry Patillo was given a guest prize of dainty lingerie. Then in concluding the party, Mrs. Patillo, bride of only a few weeks, was presented a flag. When the flag was unrolled there fell a shower of twenty-five handkerchiefs in the varied designs of the day for the honoree. This came as a complete surprise to the new bride.

Revival Meeting at San Gabriel Church

For many years it has been the custom of the San Gabriel Christian church to hold a summer revival beginning on Friday evening before the third Sunday in July. This year will be no exception and true to custom they invite all their friends to take due notice and to attend and enjoy the services that will start on Friday evening July 13th and continue on through Sunday July 22nd.

The preaching will be under direction of L. O. Byerly, pastor of the Rockdale Christian church. Brother Byerly has just closed a very successful revival at Cameron and has been doing a very good work at Rockdale. He is a man worth hearing and will bring to those attending some great gospel messages.

The folks of San Gabriel church need no introduction to their friends and neighbors. For many years they have maintained a very high standard of Christian service and have provided many very pleasant as well as useful revivals for those who came. They especially urge and invite you to come and have part in these services. If you are of a different belief than they you will find just as cordial a welcome and will be treated at all times with every Christian courtesy. Evangelist Byerly's motto is, "Preach Christ and the richness of salvation and let all come who will and taste and be saved." His many friends in all denominations recommend him as a stalwart preacher of the word.

Remember the date Friday evening July 13th and the place is at San Gabriel Christian church.

FATHER OF H. M. ROARK DIES AT AGE OF 86 YEARS

John Wesley Roark, age 86 years, 9 months and 22 days, father of our townsman and school superintendent, H. M. Roark, passed away at his home at Lancaster, Texas, near Dallas, on Thursday June 7. The deceased was born in James County, Tenn., August 15, 1841, and resided in Tenn., util January 3 1900, when he moved with his family to Texas, locating at Rockdale, where he was engaged in farming. He was united in marriage on September 8. 1865 to Miss Permelia B. Conner of Berchwood, Tenn., to which happy union sixteen children were born, eight of whom, besides his wife, aged 82 years, survive him as follows: Mrs. J. C. Gross, Waco; D. B. Roark, Plainview; Mrs. O. F. Robinett, Branchville; Dr. J. D. Roark, Lancaster; H. M. Roark, Thorndale; Miss Maude Roark, Lancaster; Dr. J. O. Roark, Haslet, Texas; Mrs. J. B. Luce, Grand Saline, all of whom were present with their father during his last hours on this earth. Mr. Roark united with the Baptist church in 1865 and lived a true Christian life, practicing those scriptural doctrines in his every day life.

He was a Confederate veteran and soldier in the Civil War, being a member of the First Tennessee Cavalry under the command of Bradstreet and Lee and was in several noted battles and encounters, being sdightly wounded on four different occasions, having his horse shot from under him during a three day's battle at Murfreesville, Tenn., which was one of the hardest fought battles of the Civil War.

The deceased was a great and noble character and made many self denials and sacrifices in order to help others get a footing in life, taking an especial interest in inspiring young men to attend school and college and thereby gain a knowledge to enable them to enjoy this lfie much more. Although he did not gain great wealth of this worlds' riches, he provided well for his family and kept his family well supplied with good, whoesome literature and gave good counsel to his children.

The funeral services over the remains of the deceased were held at Lancaster, conducted by Rev. Cole, pastor o fthe Baptist church, with interment taking place in the City Cemetery there on Friday, June 8th.

The Champion joins the bereaved relatives and friends in condolence.—Thorndale Champion.

ROCKDALE AND THORNDALE FORD DEALERS SHIP TRACTORS TO RUSSIA

Jones Clement, manager of the Thorndale Auto Company, together with W. E. Gaither of ockdale, both authorized Ford dealers, shipped a car load of Ford tractors to Russia on Monday of this week. These tractors were of the old T Model and were shipped to the latter country for farming purposes at the request of the Ford Company. The shipment was made from Rockdale. Russia already has a number of these tractors in operation within their empire for agricultural purposes and they seem to answer the requirements splendidly from the demand for them.—Thorndale Champion.

Zone Meeting

The next B. Y. P. U. Zone Meeting will be held with the Burlington church at 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Since the encampment will be the main issue of the meeting we should have a good attendance. Let us have representatives from every church in our zone.

The program has not been completed but we do know that the Edds family from Heidenheimer will be present to sing for us and Rev. Robert Dodson the new pastor of Little River will speak.

Numerous picnic games kept the young people enmployed until a late hour. Guests on this occasion were: Miss Juanita Smith and Miss Elizabeth McWilliams of Elgin.

Branchville News

Our revival meeting started last Thursday night. Bro. Odell Jemeson is doing the preaching, Mr. C. W. Tyson, choir leader and Mrs. . H. Yates is pianist. Brother Jameson has preached some splendid sermons and every service the crowd gets larger. We have been having some visitors from Maysfield and Jones Prairie and we are always glad to have them and want them to come again.

As this was the beginning of a new quarter for the B. Y. P. U. new officers were elected Sunday night as follows: President, Miss Dorothy Foster; secretary, J. C. Judkins. Leader for group one, Miss Sue Tyson; for group two, Frances Smith; quiz leader, Mrs. Fred Smith; choirester, Sarrah Harlan. B. Y. P. U. sponsor, Miss Myrtle Tyson. This is a splendid group of officers and I know we are going to have some good programs and our B. Y. P. U. will grow thru the efforts these good officers put forth.

R. R. Tyson of Cameron, and as we all know is candidate for sheriff was down Friday shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Tyson is at home when he comes to Branchville for he has lived here the greater part of his life, moving from here to Cameron. Mr. Tyson gets lots of encouragement from his friends here who say they are "not only going to vote for him but that they will do all they can for him." This of course makes Mr. Tyson feel good and he appreciates the expression of this good feeling and interest very much.

Mrs. Westbrook was down getting subscriptions for the Enterprise last Friday. The Enterprise has on a contest and Mrs. Westbrook is trying hard to win a car which is to be given away at the close of this contest.

Fred Smith and Joe Foster bought a share in the Country Club at Calvert and both families are enjoying the fine swimming pool over there these hot days.

Will Looney and family received a complimentary entrance card to the club for the month of July. I am sure they also will take advantage of this fine gift and will join the swimming party.

Little Miss Wynell Kidd of Cameron is spending a few days with Mary Ruth Porter. Nancy Allyne Self, Rose Mary Yates and Margie Jane Cooper spent Sunday with these little girls and they enjoyed playing and being together very much.

Mrs. J. B. Porter from Houston is up for a few days visit.

Miss Myrtle Tyson has gotten her a new car. I am sure she will enjoy it very much these few months while she is out of school.

Barn Dance at Wayside

Due to the popularity of the barn dance given at Wayside Inn sometime ago, Mr. Elwood Cammer is offering another of these unusual dances on Saturday night, June 30. Overalls or old clothes can be worn at the dancers option, and it is expected that a rollicking good time will be had by everyone attending.

Wayside Inn offers the ideal dancing place due to its cool location on the river bank, though things will be warmed up considerably by Dee Johnson's ten piece negro orchestra, the hottest in Texas.

Store Your Fall Eggs

Eggs are now selling below the cost to produce them. If you store your eggs now for home use next winter, the fresh eggs gathered then may be sold at the higher price.

By using water glass, all fresh, clean eggs may be stored at about 2 1-2c per dozen. One quart of water glass added to about 9 quarts of water that has been boiled and cooled will preserve 15 dozen eggs. Select a thoroughly scalded five gallon wooden bucket, crock or lard can, and place the eggs resting on small end in the solution, being careful to keep them covered with at least two inches of the solution. Keep in a cool place well covered to prevent evaporation. Store your cheap eggs now and sell fresh eggs at high prices next winter.

Tyson, candidate for Sheriff; Miss Lilian Atkinson, County Clerk and L. B. Fikes, County Treasurer. All candidates were given an opportunity to speak.

Hobo Party

Miss Lucille Green was hostess to a Hobo Party at her home on North Travis Avenue Friday evening from eight to ten oc'lock.

The lawn was well lighted for games, and a number of circle plays were enjoyed by the party members who were dressed in typical hobo costumes.

Francis Esslinger received first prize for the best costume and Miss Euline Slaughter received second prize for the best make up.
